Garden Crop Survey

Coughran of the staff of the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca is making a survey of Beneca County in regard to garden crops. Some of the points included in the work are varieties of crops these crops in supplying food for the family, and comparison with the amount grown in other years. Coughran's visit is spongared by the Senece County Farm Bureau. Five men from the Department of Farms and Markets in Albany are working in Senaca County in an effort to stamp out disease among boney bees. Hundreds of ewarms are being examined and the work will be continued until every hive in the county has been tested. The work is being done at ? the expense of the department. Where a hive is found to be in-Sected it is destroyed at once.
